WHY...

The Paly Media Arts Boosters provide financial support for all Paly Media Arts programs, directly impacting over 550 students. We raise funds for ongoing expenses including equipment, software, exhibitions, field trips, scholarships, contest-entry fees, and much more.* Recent specific projects include bringing 145 Paly students to the 2018 JEA-NSPA National Journalism Convention in San Francisco and purchasing leadership books for students enrolled in our brand new Media Leadership Management Honors journalism course.

ACCOLADES...

The Media Arts publications have been highly decorated: no other school in the country can claim FIVE 2019 Columbia Scholastic Press Association Crown Finalists: C Mag, Viking and Verde won Gold Crowns, while Campanile and Paly Voice won Silver Crowns. The Campanile and Voice websites were Pacemaker Finalists and Verde Magazine won a Pacemaker, awarded by the National Scholastic Press Association. Dozens of Paly students have won individual awards through NorCal JEA, NSPA, CSPA, and the National Federation of Press Women.
